Remember! Giving Advice

Should Shouldn't Ought to

} + Simple form of the verb

These expressions are used to give advice and make suggestions. Other expressions to make suggestions are:

- It might be nice (good) if you...

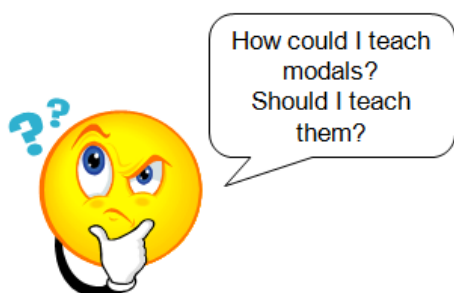

- Why don't you ...

- If I were you I would ...

- It's more polite to use expressions for making suggestion than to use an imperative. Notice this contrast:
- Get out and take an art class. (less polite)
- You should get out and take an art class. (more polite)

• Let's see more about Using of Modals... → → → → →

What are modals?

- Auxiliary verbs
 - Can
 - Could
 - Had better
 - a
 - Might
 - Must
 - Ought to
 - Shall
 - Should
 - Will
 - Would

Why do we use modals?

We use modals to talk about obligations, suggestions, advise and expectations!

There are two kinds of modals:

1. Simple modals : for the present and future
2. Perfect modals: to show necessity in the past tense.

Simple modals: Present and future

Modal + base form

Examples:

We should invite your friend to my party.

We could buy some soda if you have money.

You might want to call your mom and tell her you are at a friend's house.

Perfect modals: past

Modal + have + past participle

Examples:

You should have called me last night.

Mary should have done her homework this week.

We should not have made a big mess here.

Showing strong necessity:

Must.....I must go to sleep!

Have to.....I have to go to sleep!

Have got to...I have got to go to sleep!

Had better...for a warning!

Use “had better” to give a warning that something bad will happen if the advise is not followed.

You had better study tonight or you might fail the test.

He had better go home now or he will be in trouble!

Use Should to offer advise

Should means...it would be a good idea.

You should eat something you are hungry.

You should read a book and turn off the television.

They should stop being so loud.

We should have a party at the beach

Could or might are more gentle than should....

You could read a book.

They might like the movie.

We could buy some candy.

I might play basketball.

He could win your blue marble.

Practicing modals:

Do class surveys:

Who might want to play basketball at recess?

Who should be the student of the week?

When should we go to doctor?

Don't forget to model the appropriate responses!

Sentence pairs:

He must be here	because I see his jacket on his chair.
I should buy a present	because it is Julie's birthday.
You could call me tonight	since you will be at home.
They should come to my house	to play Nintendo.
He could win a prize	if he turns in his lottery ticket.

Conversation cards: Small group discussions

Why should the school day be shorter?	Name three things you should not do in class.	What could you do to be a good friend?
What would you do if you won a million dollars?	If you could meet one famous person, who would it be?	What might happen if pigs could fly?

The Sound of It: Understanding Reductions

LONG FORM	REDUCTION	SHORT FORM
She made a lot of friends.	lot of → lotta	She made a lotta friends.
He had lots of problems.	lots of → lotsa	He had lotsa problems.

- Important Warming Up Activities - Culture Notes -Vocabulary Building -Getting Meaning from Context .

In all cultures, there are questions that are common to ask a new acquaintance and other questions that people consider impolite.

People in the U.S. usually don't ask:

- How old are you?
- Are you married?
- How much money do you make?

People in the U.S. frequently ask:

- What do you do?
(What kind of work?)
- Where are you from?

Culture Note:

It's fairly common for many people to make small talk with strangers. They see it as a small moment of human contact. However, these short conversations with strangers seem to be more common in small towns than in big cities. And people everywhere are careful to speak with strangers only in a "safe" situation—in a public place with other people nearby.

In American English, you'll sometimes hear the expression "Two's company; three's a crowd." This refers to a situation in which there are three people together—maybe two close friends and a much younger brother or sister. The close friends would prefer to be alone with each other. Do you have an expression for this in your language?

In most restaurants in the Middle East customers leave a 10% tip for the waiter—a little more if the service was excellent and a little less for poor service. You can ask for separate checks if you and a friend are paying separately. That way it's easier to know how much each person should pay. If you are in a large group, the waiter may not want to do separate checks, however.

Guessing Meaning from Context Guess the meaning of the underlined words in the sentences that follow.

Getting Meaning from Context

1. Definition

A definition gives the meaning of words. The writer may use words, phrases, or statements to define something. The writer will use key words, or signal words to identify a definition so you need to look for them. See examples of key words below.

Key words	is/are	means/mean is/are called	what this means is is/are known as	consist of
	is/are defined as	refer to
	is/are described as	may be seen as e.g.

Someone who explores and studies caves is known as a spelunker.

an unfamiliar word = spelunker signal words = is known as definition = someone who explores and studies caves

2. Restatement

The writer may use other words, phrases, or sentences to provide the meaning of difficult words. We call this restatement; the writer describes it again or in a different way. Signal words for restatement are in the “Key words box” below.

or that is to say in other words i.e. or that is e.g.

The surface of Africa consists mainly of plateaus, or large flat areas, although these occur at different levels.

an unfamiliar word = plateaus signal word = or meaning = large flat areas

In some restaurants, no one brings you your food because the restaurant is self-service or buffet style. This means that you get your own plate and serve yourself. In these restaurants, you don't have to leave a 10 percent tip. You can leave a smaller tip if you like.

ACADEMIC POWER STRATEGY

Avoid making stereotypes. Keeping your mind open will help you learn more about other cultures. A stereotype is a generalization about a group of people. The idea may be wrong, but many people believe it. It's common to form stereotypes of a new culture, but it's important to remain open to the possibility that your first impression might not be accurate. In the academic world, you will probably meet people from many cultures, and your experiences will be more positive if you have an open mind.

These are some words that you'll hear in the lecture. Match each word on the left with its meaning on the right. Write the letter on the line. Use a dictionary if necessary.

7. We went to the Navajo Indian reservation, where we studied with Navajo weavers who lived there.

, commas

Love Is Never Enough

.....

Like Deborah Tannen (page 113), Dr. Aaron T. Beck has made use of studies by anthropologists Daniel Maltz and Ruth Borker. In his book Love Is Never Enough, Beck summarizes some of the differences that they have found in the communication styles of men and women:

- In a conversation between a man and a woman, the woman asks most of the questions because she wants to keep the conversation going.
- Women see conversation as a way to get closer to another person.
- Men see conversation as a way to exchange information.
- Women think, "If I don't ask, he'll think I don't care."
- Men think, "If she wants to tell me something, she'll tell me. I don't need to ask."
- Women use the pronouns you and we more than men do.
- Men state more facts and opinions than women do.
- If there are problems in a marriage, women feel the need to discuss these problems with their husbands. They think, "Everything will be OK if we can just keep talking."
- In a marriage, many men don't like to discuss problems. They prefer to find a quick solution. They think, "We're in serious trouble if we have to keep talking about it."

ACADEMIC POWER STRATEGY

Become aware of your stereotypes and be open-minded about changing them. This is extremely important in the academic world. As you saw in Chapter 5, a stereotype is an oversimplified idea about a group of people. In other words, it is too general to be correct. A stereotype might have some basis in reality, but it is mostly wrong. A stereotype often begins with the word all. Many people have certain stereotypes about gender: “All women . . .” or “All men. . .” Before we can break our own gender stereotypes and begin to see people clearly, we need to identify what stereotypes we actually have.

Apply the Strategy

For a few minutes, write about your own gender stereotypes. Have you been surprised by anything so far in this chapter? If so, what? Have your gender stereotypes changed? If so, how?

The Sound of It: Understanding Reductions

CD 2,
TR 12-14

In normal or fast speech, you will hear reductions of some words. Listen to these examples. Can you hear the difference between the long forms and the short forms? (Note: The short forms are not correct in writing.)

Long Form	Reduction	Short Form
Get out of here.	out of → outta	Get outta here.
Give me that book.	give me → gimme	Gimme that book.
Let me ask you something.	let me → lemme	Lemme ask you something.
I don't know.	don't know → dunno	I dunno.
You like it, don't you?	don't you → doncha	You like it, doncha?
You liked it, didn't you?	didn't you → didncha?	You liked it, didncha?

Expressing Emotion

Ready to Listen

Here are some sentences that men say in the listening passage. Are these emotional situations or not? What do you think?

Examples: Beautiful sunrise, dear.

That's a nice dress.

This is the happiest day of my life.

Tickets for the Olympics?

Pay attention to people's intonation, not just their words. In English, people show emotion with intonation. When they are enthusiastic (excited) or very happy, their voices go up on stressed words. There are more "mountains" and "valleys" in their speech:

It's really wonderful.

When people are not very enthusiastic or happy, their voices usually don't go up. In the example below, the person says "It's really wonderful," but probably doesn't truly think so:

It's really wonderful.

When a person likes another person and wants to be friendly, the voice usually goes up:

Oh, hi. How are you?

When a person does not feel very friendly toward another person, the voice does not usually go up:

Oh, hi. How are you?

B. When a person shows quiet sincerity (honest, true feelings), the voice might not go up much, but there is probably a small pause between words or word groups.

Example: He . . . is a great . . . friend.

When the person is not very sincere, there is usually no pause.

Example: He's a great friend.

B. When a person shows quiet sincerity (honest, true feelings), the voice might not go up much, but there is probably a small pause between words or word groups.

Example: He . . . is a great . . . friend.

When the person is not very sincere, there is usually no pause.

Example: He's a great friend.

LANGUAGE YOU CAN USE: MAKING AN APPOINTMENT

When you make an appointment, both speakers need to agree on the time. What can you say if the other person suggests a time that is not possible for you? You can say several different things. Here's an example from the previous section.

A: Could I make an appointment for an interview?

B: Yes, of course. How's Tuesday morning at 10:00?

A: I'm afraid I have a class at that time. Could we make it in the afternoon?

B: Sure. How about 3:00?

A: Great.

Don't be shy about asking for a different time or day!

Creating a Conversation Work with a partner. Look at the conversation below. One student is A, and one student is B. Take roles and have a conversation. Choose words from the lists. Then change roles and have another conversation. Choose different words from the lists.

A: Could I make an appointment { for an interview?
with a counselor?
with the doctor?

B: Yes, of course. { How about
How's
We have an opening on } { Tuesday at 10:00?
Friday at 3:00?
the 14th at 9:00.

A: I'm afraid {
Oh, I'm sorry, but } { I have a class at that time.
I can't make it that day.

Could we make it { another time?
a little later?
a different day?

B: Oh, sure. { How about Thursday?
How's that same day at 4:00?
We can fit you in on Friday afternoon.

A: Great. See you then.

Learn how to respond to a negative question—or, more specifically, a negative statement with intonation that goes up at the end. People often use statement word order to ask a negative question if they think the answer will be “no.” Their intonation goes up. Here’s an example from Conversation 1:

Example: Question: You don’t have one?

In many languages, people answer “yes” because they’re thinking, “Yes, that’s right. I don’t have one.” But in English the answer is “no.”

Example: Question: You don’t have one?

Answer: No (I don’t).

A. With a partner, take turns asking and answering these questions. In each case, answer “no” and give the correct answer. Then listen and check your answers.

Example: a: The main language of Quebec isn’t English?

b: No, it’s French. (French)

1. a: It’s not strange to experience culture shock?
b: _____ (normal)
2. a: Osaka isn’t the capital of Japan?
b: _____ (Tokyo)
3. a: Men don’t usually talk much at home?
b: _____ (in public)
4. a: Women don’t usually talk much in public?
b: _____ (at home)
5. a: English isn’t easy?
b: _____ (hard)

B. You show surprise in a negative question if your intonation goes down low and then up high at the end.

Example: Question: You don't have one?

Answer: No, I don't.

With a partner, take turns asking and answering these questions. Person A will show surprise in the question. Person B will answer "no" and add a short negative answer. Then listen and check your answers.

Example: a: The main language of Quebec isn't English?

b: No, it isn't.

1. a: We don't have class tomorrow?

b: _____

2. a: You didn't see it?

b: _____

3. a: He doesn't like it?

b: _____

4. a: They won't even try it?

b: _____

C. Sometimes a person thinks that the answer to a question will be "no," but that person isn't right. How do you answer?

Example: Question: You don't have one?

Answer: Yes, I do.

It's very important to stress the affirmative verb in the answer (do in the example). Ask and answer Questions 1–10 from the previous exercise. This time, Person B will answer "yes" and correct Person A.

If necessary, use a dictionary to help you match the following words or expressions with their definitions. Write the letters on the lines.

However, the majority of adverbs do not take these endings. Instead, they form the comparative using more and the superlative using most:

Adverb	Comparative	Superlative
recently	more recently	most recently
effectively	more effectively	most effectively
frequently	more frequently	most frequently

Irregular Comparative and Superlative Adjectives and Adverbs

Some comparative and superlative forms are irregular and do not follow any rules or patterns. These must be memorized.

USE OF COMPARATIVES

Comparatives are very commonly followed by than and a pronoun or noun group, in order to describe who the other person or thing involved in the comparison is, e.g.:

John is taller than me.

I think that she's more intelligent than her sister

OTHER USES OF COMPARATIVES

- Comparatives are often qualified by using words and phrases such as much, a lot, far, a bit/little, slightly etc., e.g.:
 - You should go by train, it would be much cheaper.
 - Could you be a bit quieter?
 - I'm feeling a lot better.
 - Do you have one that's slightly bigger?
- Two comparatives can be contrasted by placing the before them, indicating that a change in one quality is linked to a change in another, e.g.:
 - The smaller the gift, the easier it is to send.
 - The more stressed you are, the worse it is for your health.
- Two comparatives can also be linked with and to show a continuing increase in a particular quality, e.g.:
 - The sea was getting rougher and rougher.
 - Her illness was becoming worse and worse.
 - He became more and more tired as the weeks went by

USE OF SUPERLATIVES

- Like comparatives, superlatives can be placed before nouns in the attributive position, or occur after be and other link verbs, e.g.:
 - the most delicious chocolate cake I've ever eaten
 - Annabel was the youngest
 - This restaurant is the best
- As shown in the second two examples, superlatives are often used on their own if it is clear what or who is being compared. If you want to be specific about what you are comparing, you can do this with a noun, or a phrase beginning with in or of, e.g.:
 - Annabel was the youngest child
 - Annabel was the youngest of the children
 - This restaurant is the best in town.

THE OPPOSITES OF COMPARATIVE AND SUPERLATIVES

We use the forms less (the opposite of comparative more), and the least (the opposite of superlative the most).

Less is used to indicate that something or someone does not have as much of a particular quality as someone or something else, e.g.:

This sofa is less comfortable.

I've always been less patient than my sister.

The least is used to indicate that something or someone has less of a quality than any other person or thing of its kind, e.g.:

It's the least expensive way to travel.

She was the least intelligent of the three sisters.

Irregular Adverbs

badly	worse	worst
much	more	most
