Course Overview

The final draft will then be evaluated out of 70 points according to the following criteria:

A) 10 points are assigned for a complete abstract and a good introduction with a clear thesis statement.

B) 10 points are assigned for a brief review of previously published literature on the topic being researched (at least two previous studies).

C) 10 points are assigned for a clearly stated research question, and overview of the research's significance.

Course Overview

- D) 10 points are assigned for a detailed research methodology that includes the tools to be used in the study, and how the collected data will be gathered and analyzed. If your proposal contains an ethical considerations section, it will be included in the evaluation here as well.
- E) 10 points are assigned for an overview of the limitations and the expected results of the study.
- F) 10 points are assigned for use of correct grammar, spelling and punctuation.
- G) 10 points are assigned for a complete table of contents and a well-organized list of references used in the study.

Course Overview

Each criterion will be assigned points according to the following scale:

Excellent: 10 to 9 points out of 10 points

Good: 8 to 7 points out of 10 points

Fair: 6 to 5 points out of 10 points

Lacking: 4 to 3 points out of 10 points
