(The Smart Plan to learn the English Language)

My Experience To Learn the English Language By Using the Internet

Description:

English language, which becomes a gateway to science and knowledge, most of today's modern scientific publications and books published in English, as well as in online and digital sites, and the gate is also to connect with the world. I write this research after finding that there are a great opportunity and the possibility to learn the person, and mastered the English language as he sat in his home in front of his computer and, accompanied by his smartphone, when I think about that there are a lot of young people who are prevented by circumstances to achieve this important goal .

I find it necessary to convey my experience to others, to reach all those who need them .

Tools & Methodology:

There will be a questionnaire about the use of the Internet to learn the English Language, I will look for strategies that may help the students to improve their language .
